Guest Lecture

- Date : 2nd March 2021
- Resource Person : Mr. Prajwal Kiran Saldanha, researchscholar, Bangalore University
- Topic : FUTURE PROSPECTS AFTER B.Sc
- Beneficiaries : 27 students of life science and staff

The Guest Lecture conducted on 02/03/2021 on the topic "FUTURE PROSPECTS AFTER B.Sc" sought to widen the horizons of students of Life Science about the opportunities available after B.Sc. in various fields. The content of the lecturer ranged from academic options to public sector undertakings mostly focusing on academics.

The topics discussed were primary options to pursue after B.Sc. which included Environment scientist, Agricultural research, Forensic scientist, Biochemist, Pharmacist, Food scientist and nutritionist, Teacher and Administrative roles. Of the seven contents, former five options are academics based, to be pursued as M.Sc. in their respective fields. Detailed picture of the entrance examination (IIT JAM) required to enter into premier institutes was also given, as well as a glimpse of opportunities after masters and exams available was also specified such as KSET, NET (CSIR, UGC). Possible choice as a research fellow in laboratories along with CSIR Lab details and websites were also provided.

Along with the indigenous options, opportunities abroad (Japan, Germany, U.K, Korea, New Zealand, Singapore, China and U.S.) were also quoted with the details of examinations and required qualifications.
